Define your FUN at Detroit Lake!

Find yourself among the towering pines, sparkling waters and friends - new and old. Winter, Spring, Summer and Fall... at Detroit Lake you'll find the FUN in all seasons. Our warm small community welcomes guests to enjoy their little piece of Heaven. Family vacations, corporate retreats, weekend get-aways... find a destination that memories are made of at Detroit Lake, Oregon.

Roughin' it... Ya Right!

Detroit, Oregon has everything that you could want or need for your adventure. While you're in town, you'll have access to espresso, great meals and cocktails, a big scoop of ice cream, fishing gear, groceries, gifts, liquor, rental equipment and more!

In the Winter, many of our guests enjoy hitting the slopes at near-by Bachelor and Hoodoo for skiing- cross country and down hill, snow-shoeing, snowboarding and sledding.

Also just a few miles East of Detroit are endless well-manicured snowmobile trails ready for your FUN snow-bound adventure. For a treat, make your way to McCoy Creek. Drift through the scenic trails leading to the snowmobile shelter at the top of the mountain and enjoy the warm fire blazing within. Don't forget the hot cocoa!

Detroit Lake offers a myriad of activities year-round. In the Summer families and friends enjoy FUN on and off the water. Sun lovers take pleasure in miles of watery trails that can be accessed ski boats, sail boats, fishing boats, canoes and airmat-tresses. Meet friends at one of the many tie-up spots around the lake or catch dinner in one of the best fishin' holes.

How the lake came to be...

The 3,500 acre lake is located in the Cascade Mountains below Mt. Jefferson on the Willamette National Forest. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers built the lake and dam in 1951-53. The lake stores water of the North Santiam River, controlling runoff and providing flood control, irrigation, downstream navigation improvement, recreation and power generation, while preserving the quality of the North Santiam Canyon environment.
